Engaging local businesses before, during and after emergencies

CBi supports local private sector networks by building their capacity to engage in disaster management and improve communities’ resilience.

In 2021, CBi directly supported 13 private sector networks in some of the world’s most at-risk countries.

Connect with CBi
Follow us and engage with us on social media: connectingbusinessinitiative
Visit our website: www.connectingbusiness.org
Reach out to: connectingbusiness@un.org

CBi Member Networks

Photo credit: VBRC/Groovy Banana, AGERCA, A-PAD SL, IOM/Joe Lowry
CBi is jointly managed by the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

CBi is currently supported by 275,000 local businesses reached through our local networks. Member Networks represent large businesses as well as micro-, small- and medium-sized enterprises.

- 275,000 local businesses
- 18 million people supported by emergency assistance, preparedness or recovery activities
- US$84 million mobilized by CBi Member Networks since the launch of the initiative in 2016
- 100+ crises addressed by CBi and its Member Networks over the past five years, including tropical cyclones, major earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, and situations involving conflict, violence and displacement

CBi in numbers

Our partners help the business community to prepare for, respond to and recover from disasters in a coordinated and collective manner.
CBi is jointly managed by the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

CBi is currently supported by 275,000 local businesses reached through our local networks.

Member Networks represent large businesses as well as micro-, small- and medium-sized enterprises.

Working with private sector networks to build their capacity and connect them with the humanitarian community.

Helping to coordinate business contributions during emergencies.

Advocating for coordinated private sector engagement in humanitarian emergencies.

Providing guidance, online courses and tools to businesses and UN partners.

CBi in numbers:
- 18 million people supported by emergency assistance, preparedness or recovery activities.
- US$84 million mobilized by CBi Member Networks since the launch of the initiative in 2016.
- 100+ crises addressed by CBi and its Member Networks over the past five years, including tropical cyclones, major earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, and situations involving conflict, violence and displacement.

CBi helps the business community to prepare for, respond to and recover from disasters in a coordinated and collective manner.

What we do
CBi is jointly managed by the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP).

CBi is currently supported by

Our partners

CBi helps the business community to prepare for, respond to and recover from disasters in a coordinated and collective manner.

What we do
CBi supports local private sector networks by building their capacity to engage in disaster management and improve communities’ resilience.

In 2021, CBi directly supported 13 private sector networks in some of the world’s most at-risk countries.

Connect with CBi

Follow us and engage with us on social media:
- Facebook: connectingbusinessinitiative
- Twitter: connecting_biz
- LinkedIn: connecting-business-initiative

Visit our website:
www.connectingbusiness.org

Reach out to:
connectingbusiness@un.org

Photo credit: VBRC/Groovy Banana, AGERCA, A-PAD SL, IOM/Joe Lowry